Beautifully crafted from solid wood, the Tokyo chair now features a newly upholstered seat with subtle cushioning, combining understated comfort with its timeless elegance.

A refined synthesis of traditional Danish and Japanese design, the Tokyo Chair combines timeless craftsmanship with contemporary woodworking techniques. This dining chair features exquisite wood detailing and a variety of seat options to complement different interiors.

A continuous ribbon of shaped wood forms its distinctive backrest, seamlessly joined to the legs through traditional mortise-and-tenon construction. The advanced, low-build water-based polyurethane finish enhances the wood's natural open-grain texture—smooth to the touch yet highly durable.

Each seat is precisely crafted and fitted over a multi-layered structure to ensure long-lasting comfort, strength, and impeccable form for years to come.
